Subject: Beta

As I mentioned to you when we last spoke about this, I am planning to come to the US for the Christmas holidays and could return via New York or Richmond in order to see the Beta product and talk with the relevant people who are working on it. Right now, I am planning to return from Dallas to Switzerland (changing planes in New York) on Monday, January 3, 1994.

Let me know if something can be worked out (or if you want me to try and set something up on my own, in which case tell me who to talk to). I would prefer to do it on Jan. 3 or 4. If we go ahead, perhaps we could set it up fairly quickly so I can get the best plane fare and not incur any penalties for changing around my tickets.

If we were to do it in Richmond, I would probably go into Washington and drive down.

Jim
